

FOREIGN EXCHANGE SPECIALIST

HEADQUARTERS IN TALLINN, ESTONIA

F-TKO

Founded in 2010, F-TKO is an international organization that supplies high-quality animal proteins and fats. F-TKO's Headquarters is based in Pärnu mnt. 137 Tallinn, Estonia. The Group also has offices in Poland, Spain, Italy, the Middle East, South America and Asia. Our core business is sourcing Processed Animal Proteins (PAPs) from Europe, the Middle East & South America, and offering these to our customers in Europe & Asia. Our Group is one of the largest traders in the Processed Animal Proteins sector, and we continue to expand our operations on a yearly basis.

Join the F-TKO Team as the Foreign Exchange Specialist and lead the company into a new direction by setting up & managing its foreign currency policy. You will be responsible for analyzing market trends, executing currency trades, and ensuring the best exchange policy for our EUR/USD/GBP currencies. Your expertise will help F-TKO to limit currency exchange loss risks, to maximize profitability and to maintain a competitive edge so the company can continue to expand.

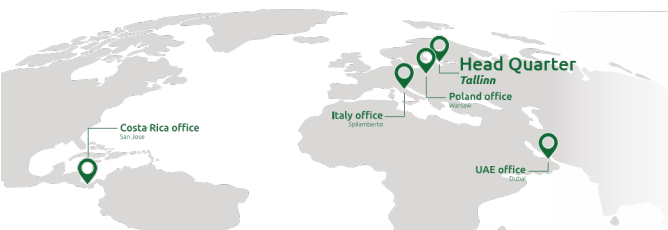

Candidate Expectations:

The position requires experience in foreign exchange and/or financial markets. Knowledge of international financial regulations and compliance standards. Certification in financial markets and/or foreign exchange is a plus.

Proper English language skill is required, both spoken and written. Estonian and/or Russian is a plus. We prefer candidates which have a proven track record of foreign exchange experience.

The Company offers:

F-TKO offers an attractive salary package and an excellent international work experience. As a bonus, we organize annual summer trips for our employees to fantastic destinations in Europe. Our brand-new office also has its own gym, which is free to use for its employees.
